

The map displays the North Atlantic region, including the British Isles, Iceland, and the northern coast of Europe. Red dots indicate sampling locations. The dots are concentrated along the coast of Norway, Sweden, Finland, and the British Isles. There is also a single dot on the west coast of Ireland.